Beauty in Righteous Acts.
Postponement of a righteous act is never right. The sooner we sow the seeds of love, the sooner we begin to reap the bountiful harvest of happiness and joy. The sooner we give to the world the best we have, the sooner the best will begin to come back to us—it not in visible material things, then in what is much to be desired—spiritual and mental delights.—Unknown.

MADE TOO STRONG A BLUFF

Mythical Past That Kansas Man Described Has Been the Bane of His Married Life.

"I made one serious mistake when I courted my wife," said a man in Tom Thompson's hearing. "I told her she was too good for me, and that I had been a pretty bad boy, but if she would only have me, I'd straighten up and live a different life."

"Now, the fact is I wasn't a very bad feller and I just put that kind of a story over because most girls like to think they have great influence for good over bad boys. But after we got married my wife watched me like a hawk. She got confidential with all my old friends and tried to find out all about what I had been doing the years before she came to town, and when she couldn't run anything down on me she became imbued with the belief that I was a very sly knave besides being as wicked as I had led her to believe I was."

"She is suspicious of every move I make, and it's getting on my nerves to such an extent that the peace and quiet of our happy home is in danger. And it's all my fault. I tried to be smart and make her think I was a helova feller and that I was reforming all for her sake. Now, I believe she would like me better if she could dig up some old scandal on me to justify the bluff I put up to her when I was keeping company with her. But next time I'll know better," he said with a long sigh.—Kansas City Star.

DANGEROUS BIRDS OF PREY

Some American Owls Capable of Carrying Off Young Lamb, So Powerful Are They.

One of the largest of our American varieties of the owl family was shot on a recent Saturday in Connecticut by a German workman. Its wings, spread out, measured four feet eight inches—only four inches short of five feet—from tip to tip. Its claws, hooked like an eagle's, and very sharp, were fully an inch and a half in length.

Such an owl is quite capable not only of seizing and bearing off a full-grown rabbit (which is its regular prey), but a young lamb—possibly a small baby.

Its flights, silent as the thistle-down that floats in the September air, is swift as an arrow, and the hapless hen or rabbit is first apprised of "what's up" by the plunging of those terrible talons into its quivering flesh and muscles. By the silence of their flight, these nocturnal birds of prey are able to destroy a great many rats.

Rheumatism Cure.

The old-fashioned person who carries a potato in his pocket to ward off attacks of rheumatism may be wiser in what some have termed his "superstition" than we wot. Up-to-date medical science in a recent book on "The Therapeutic Value of the Potato" calls attention to the value of this tuber in the treatment of inflammation of the joint (synovitis), gout, lumbago and rheumatism. The potato is not described as an article of diet, either boiled or baked, nor as German, country or French fried. It could scarcely be professional to prescribe anything quite so much to a patient's liking. But this curative agent may be used raw by means of a bandage, and in some cases—one can now escape the little syringe—is to be used hypodermically. After all, however, the potato in the pocket will appeal to many as a simpler, convenient, and perhaps quite as efficacious a remedy, placebo, or amulet, as any the pharmacist may provide.

To Remove Ink Stains.

When the finger is stained with ink and you have no sand soap in the house, just take a match, moisten it slightly and rub over the discolored parts. The stains will soon disappear.

Very often a black coat or dress looks shabby before it is really worn out, owing to the "shine" which appears in various places. To remove this use ammonia and soap—say, one ounce of rock ammonia and half an ounce of castile soap in a pint of water. When quite dissolved dip small sponge into the mixture and gently rub over the shiny spots. Sometimes a simple paste of fuller's earth and water will remedy the defect. Put on while moist, let it dry, and brush off after about four hours or so.

He Misunderstood.

She was a girl of the period of the first water, he was a bit illiterate. He always tried hard never to betray his uncultured condition, sometimes with terrible results, as witness:

They sat in the concert room together eating apples, and as the band struck up an exceptionally pleasant air she exclaimed:
"Oh, what a sweet symphony, John!"
"H'm!" answered John, solemnly chewing his fruit. "Yours may be; mine's a beastly sour!"

Good Stories All Old.

Lord Byron, in one of his prose writings, declared that there were only seven stories in the world, and that all other anecdotes and jokes were adaptations, variations or degenerations of the original seven.
Wendell Phillips, in his "Lost Arts," declares that all the good stories of the present day accredited to the Irish are really the product of the original Greeks.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness. Profit By Hopkinsville People's Experience.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urinations, headaches and dizzy spells are frequent symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass off for a time but generally return with greater intensity. Don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up their use until the desired results are obtained. Good work in Hopkinsville proves the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

Miss L. A. Hester, Fifteenth and Clay Sts., Hopkinsville, says: "The pain in my back, caused by disordered kidneys was so severe some days that I often felt like lying down. If I walked any distance or exerted myself in anyway, I was troubled most and if I caught cold, it made me miserable. In the morning, I felt stiff and sore and often found it hard to dress. Kidney weakness bothered me. I doctored but found little relief. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the pains in my back and the other kidney ailments left."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Hester had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Our Indebtedness to Slaves.

To the emperors and popes of bygone ages, writes Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, the modern world is deeply indebted for treasures of art and architecture that without them never could have existed. It was only by the labor of unpaid and underfed slaves that the Coliseum, the magnificent arches, the enormous baths, the marvelous palaces could have been erected; and it was only through grinding the faces of the poor by taxes and enforced contributions that the splendid churches could have been built and their matchless decorations made possible. Popes, emperors and unfortunate victims have long since passed alike into dust, not all the pomp and circumstance of power being able to avert this common fate, and it matters not whether this dust has returned to the simple elements of earth or been preserved in gorgeous tombs.

Tip to the Jury.

The great John Philpott Curran was once addressing a jury in an important case. During his speech he observed that the judge shook his head. Fearing the gesture should have an adverse influence on the jury, Curran warmed up for the moment and said: "I see, gentlemen, the motion of his lordship's head, but, believe me, if you remain here many days you will see that when his lordship shakes his head there's nothing in it."

Cleans Paint and Varnish.

Here is a good way to clean painted and varnished surfaces: To half a bucketful of warm water add a tablespoonful of salts of tartar; wash the paints with a rag dipped in this, and it will remove every speck of dirt. Rinse in clear warm water and dry with a chamola.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels, try Doan's Regulents, a modern laxative. 25c at all stores.—Advertisement.

Daily Thought.

Blessed are the happiness makers; blessed are they that remove friction, that make the course of life smooth, and the intercourse of men gentle!—Henry Ward Beecher.

MAKE MONEY FROM SEAWEED

Inhabitants of the Island of Guernsey Have "Farms" Regularly Allotted to Them.

The strangest "farms" are the seaweed farms of the island of Guernsey. Held in common by all the farmers of the neighborhood, a "farmers' council" allots to each man making application a strip of the seashore, and all the seaweed that is cast up within these limits belongs to him.

Great boulders mark the boundaries of the farms, which are from 200 to 600 yards of shore, and if any man gathers seaweed from any other man's farm or moves the boulders to extend his boundaries the council takes his farm away from him and fines him besides. The seaweed harvest is at its height during the months of July and August, and all that a man need possess to gather it is a two-wheeled cart and one of the sturdy Guernsey ponies, a couple of long-handled pitchforks and a rake.

The seaweed or "varech," as the Guernsey people call it, is used as fertilizer on the inland farms, or is sold to manufacturing chemists, who extract iodine from it.

In the old days, but not now, the great Guernsey "harvest home," which was held usually in May, at the conclusion of the winter season, was the chief festival of that quaint island. The last load was piled upon the carts, and the men and women in holiday dress marched at the head of their carts with their ponies gayly bedecked, singing old sea songs and dancing to the sound of the women's tambourines. From village to village they went until darkness came, and then a huge bonfire was lighted on the seashore and the "varech" season was officially declared at an end.

NICKNAME STUCK TO SENATOR

Frontierman Responsible for Sobriquet by Which Missouri Statesman Was Always Known.

Senator Barton, one of the two first Missouri senators, was known as "Little Red." He got the name when he delivered a speech which made him famous throughout the country.

The senate chamber was crowded. Barton had taken side against the Jackson policies. His arraignment and condemnation of the administration for years ranked as one of the greatest speeches ever heard in the senate. The audience became intensely excited. At the close, while people were crowding out of the gallery, there came a mighty shout:

"Hurrah for the little red!"

This was repeated again and again in the corridors of the capitol by the Missouri frontierman who had been a listener. When the man became calm enough to explain he said the original "little red" was a game rooster he owned which could whip any fighting cock matched against him. When he heard Senator Barton "putting his licks" in the Jackson crowd and "bringing them down every flutter" he couldn't help thinking of the victories of his "little red." The newspapers took up the story and Barton went by the sobriquet of "Little Red."

Even Crabs Have Instinct.

Everyone has heard of the homing instinct of birds and of insects, but it is rather a surprise to be told that animals as low in the scale of nature as crabs have a similar instinct. The experiment has been tried in England of capturing crabs, marking them for identification, and releasing them long distances from their homes. The most interesting example was that of a male and female captured together in a trap and carefully marked, and then taken long distances away into another county and released at different places far apart from each other. Later the two were caught together again in a trap in their original home, showing that they had not only returned to their home, but had found each other and had again mated. The homing instinct had enabled them to go from the county of Lincolnshire back to their original home in Yorkshire.

Indoor Gardens.

Rooms without growing plants are never really perfectly satisfactory in spite of the change of furniture from one place to another, its readjustment with fresh color from time to time. There must always be moments when the inanimate room bores or stifles one, but never a time when a plant lifting up its branches for the blossoming time will not win your response, your desire to aid it, your joy in its triumph.

Indeed, a very cold, bare and plain room can be made cozy and inviting by the introduction of a few blossoming plants. In the summer time they connect you with the garden, in the winter they shut you away from chill and frost, with color and fragrance they welcome your friends.—The Craftsman.

Use New Words.

The words we use every day make up our vocabulary, and it is a very good thing that our vocabulary should be as large as we can possibly make it. The best way to accomplish that is to use as many new words as possible as often as we can. Then we get accustomed to them and they are part of our vocabulary. But we must be sure that we understand their meaning, and that we use them in the right place. It is better to choose short words rather than long ones.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists. 50c. large box, or by mail, The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.
